

Just close your eyes and imagine, if you will, a perfect party. Sunshine beating down, music that makes you gooey inside, fun people in silly clothes... Now open those peepers and book yourself a flight to Ibiza. Your dream party exists at the other end of an Easyjet trip. Those clever clogs that brought us Snowbombing festival have gone and ditched their ski-goggles for sun-glasses and have borne unto us a gift from God. Expect boat parties, hotel parties, club closing parties. Believe it. Dreams do come true.
