

Beachbombing 2008

As the snow melts, the locals come out of hiding and the sun sets on what was the biggest après Ski party since Yeti's ruled the world and brewed their own Jägermeister, Snowbombing 08 takes a well deserved breather and another star rises from its insatiable belly to shed it's blistering rays upon the golden beaches, sumptuous Balearic blue seas and the biggest clubs in the world at the never sleeping Ibiza for Beachbombing 08. With the Snowbombing suitcases still unpacked, Beachbombing is taking all that was outrageous, unforgettable and beautiful from it's frost biting sister and unpacking itself onto the world's greatest party island of Ibiza.

Beachbombing 08 will be a scintillating step forward for the Bombing brand and a chance to don your shorts and whip out those pasty white legs, turn heads with that yellow polka dot bikini and touch those hard to reach places with what looks likely to be the must have fashion accessory for this summer; the Mankini! Beachbombing is the unequivocal Ibiza road trip for both veterans and newbies to discover the island and make a splash in the party capital of the world.

The hub and epicentre of Beachbombing will be the majestic and world renowned Ibiza Rocks hotel. Just like it's snowy Alpine big brother, Beachbombing will set a blistering party pace – with every day being party day, based around it's hedonistic HQ. Rub shoulders and spill drinks with the grandest bands, the biggest DJs, the wild and wonderful fancy dressers and it's eclectic collection of cool and kooky party people lucky enough to bag themselves one of the 400 must have tickets for this season - all on an island in the middle of the Mediterranean, together in a great hotel, with sunshine every day, beneath clear blue skies.

In addition there will be the chance to catch one, two or both of the most euphoric closing parties at THE BEST DAMN CLUB VENUES ON THE PLANET being put on by the infamous Beachbombing crew aswell as running it's own blend of parties, throwing some silly, sandy, sun-kissed 'n' brain blissed bonkers poolside bashes and setting sail for the most colourful and bizarre sunset boat parties Ibiza has ever witnessed!

Snowbombing started the festival season with Day-glo in the Snow and Beachbombing is ending it with Tight & Bright in the Sun... (or Bananaman, or Scoobydoo or Tarts & Vicars or whatever it is that takes your fancy!). Expect some of the sounds which excited your ears and lashed yer lobes at this year's Snowbombing – along with some fresh additions... with all that in mind September 17th – 21st is not that far away and BEACHBOMBING IS ON SALE NOW. Places are limited, so jump onboard to www.beachbombing.com, and grab yourself an early bargain with 4 nights including accommodation and entertainment costing just £149 and you'll soon be a sun-kissed, bikini clad, coconut-bra-wearing god/goddess!
